Todd Cozzens Joins LEERINK Capital Partners to Lead Healthcare Technology Investment Initiative

Boston, MA – September 8, 2015 — LEERINK Capital Partners, the asset management affiliate of LEERINK Partners, a leading healthcare investment bank, announced today that Todd Cozzens joined the firm as a Managing Director on September 1, 2015. Mr. Cozzens is based in Boston and will be managing LEERINK Capital Partners' healthcare technology and services and digital healthcare investment initiative.

Mr. Cozzens has over 25 years of experience in the healthcare technology and information systems industry. Most recently, Mr. Cozzens advised Sequoia Capital, one of Silicon Valley's most respected investment firms, on healthcare investments. He is also an accomplished executive and entrepreneur, having founded and led Boston-based Picis, a specialty EMR business that was acquired by UnitedHealth Group, where he went on to help form Optum and then lead its accountable care solutions business.

"The US healthcare system is in need of a transformation, and technology-enabled healthcare services and digital health are going to shape the future of this sector," said Jeff Leerink, Chairman and CEO of LEERINK Partners. "We have the opportunity to be at the forefront of this technological revolution, providing capital to companies and organizations that are shaping the future of the healthcare system, and we are delighted to have someone of Todd's caliber lead this important new initiative."

"This is an exciting new opportunity for me to join the team at LEERINK Capital Partners and help them further expand their franchise," said Mr. Cozzens. "LEERINK has established itself as an industry-leader that identifies innovative companies and investment ideas on the leading edge of healthcare, and I look forward to contributing to the continued success of the firm."
